The Hymn ..... Great Is Thy Faithfulness ..... Runyan

Great is thy faithfulness, O, God my Father,
There is no shadow of turning with thee;
Thou changest not, thy compassions, they fail not;
As thou hast been thou forever wilt be.

Summer and winter, and springtime and harvest,
Sun, moon, and stars in their courses above
Join with all nature in manifold witness
To thy great faithfulness, mercy, and love.

Pardon for sin and a peace that endureth,
Thine own dear presence to cheer and to guide;
Strength for today and bright hope for tomorrow,
Blessings all mine, with ten thousand beside!

Chorus:

Great is thy faithfulness! Great is thy faithfulness!
Morning by morning new mercies I see;
All I have needed thy hand hath provided;
Great is thy faithfulness, Lord, unto me!

Amen

The Hymn ..... O God, Our Help in Ages Past ..... Croft

O God, Our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home!

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless years the same.

Under the shadow of Thy Throne,
Thy saints have dwelt secure;
Sufficient is Thine arm alone,
And our defense is sure.

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be Thou our guide while life shall last,
And our eternal home.

Amen

ACADEMIC HERALDRY

In the United States, as a result of our English heritage, caps and gowns have been used from colonial times, particularly at Columbia (King's College), New York University, the University of Pennsylvania, Bryn Mawr, Yale and others. About 1885 there was a widespread student movement in America to wear caps and gowns at Commencement ceremonies. The graduating students seemed to feel a need for a significant and dignified apparel for the occasion, and the democratic as well as the traditional qualities of the cap and gown appealed to them.

In 1895 the intercollegiate Commission presented to American institutions of higher learning the Intercollegiate Code. This simple, adaptable Code regulated the design or pattern of the gowns and hoods and the colors and materials to be used. Its subsequent adoption by full 95 per cent of the colleges and universities in the country has given America a beautiful and impressive, yet extremely simple method of signifying scholastic honors.

The Code provides for three types of gowns. Those for bachelors are made of black material and have long, pointed sleeves. The master's gown is made with an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist. The rear part of its oblong shape is square cut and the front part has an arc cut away.

The doctor's gown is made with bell-shaped sleeves and like the master's gown, it is designed and supplied with fasteners so that it may be worn open or closed, but generally, it is worn closed.

The gown is faced with velvet and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The color of the velvet trim may be black or the same color as the velvet which edges the hood. The black Oxford or mortarboard style cap is worn for all degrees, but only the doctor's cap may be made of velvet, and only doctors or presidents of institutions may wear a gold tassel on the cap.

It is the hood, however, which is the most important and distinctive feature of the American Code. The doctor's hood, of black cloth matching the gown, is four feet in length and made with a wide panel. The master's hood is three and one-half feet in length. It is made of black cloth matching the gowns and follows the Oxford shape. The hoods for all the degrees are lined with silk in the official academic color or colors of the institution conferring the degree. These colors are not, necessarily, the same as the school's athletic colors, though in many cases they are.

The color of the trimming identifies the major field of learning: white for arts and letters, copper for economics, light blue for education, brown for the fine arts, crimson for journalism, purple for law, green for medicine, drab for business, pink for music, silver-gray for speech, dark blue for philosophy, sage green for physical education, golden yellow for science, cream for social science, scarlet for theology, and maroon for home economics.

The university awarding the degree is identified by the colors that line the hood. Although some universities have duplicated colors, generally a glance at the lining, which is worn exposed, will identify the awarding institution. Some of the university colors being worn today are:
