DEAN WILLIS P. WHICHARD

The Editors and Staff of the Campbell Law Review are pleased to welcome Dean Whichard to his new position as dean of Campbell Law School.

WELCOME TO DEAN WILLIS P. WHICHARD

NORMAN ADRIAN WIGGINS,
PROFESSOR OF LAW AND PRESIDENT OF CAMPBELL UNIVERSITY

More than a quarter century ago, I became convinced that Willis P. Whichard had the character, temperament, and intellectual capacity to be a great teacher of the law. Indeed, had we been successful in our efforts to bring him to our faculty, he would, today, be one of the Nation's outstanding teachers and administrators in legal education.

Dean Whichard's delay in arriving at this point in his already outstanding career gave him a unique opportunity to gain knowledge and experience from his service in both houses of the North Carolina Legislature and on both the North Carolina Courts of Appeals and the Supreme Court of North Carolina. Thus, Dean Whichard comes to his present position prepared to render exemplary service. In addition, Dean Whichard is a long-time member of the Baptist Faith and understands the aspirations and needs of the Baptist people of North Carolina for a School of Law where academic achievement and Christian commitment go hand in hand.

It is a joy to welcome Dean Whichard to his new post of service as Dean of the Law School. As he does so, he comes to this position with the complete confidence and full support of the faculty, staff and students of the University, the Presidential Board of Advisors, the Board of Trustees, alumni and friends.
