Message from the Acting Dean

September 1, 1986

In August, 1976, Campbell University School of Law enrolled its charter class, with a commitment to excellence in legal education, to the coalescence of practical and theoretical skills, to the development of innovative approaches to the practice of law and to the fostering of a strong ethical foundation upon which to base careers that would extend into the twenty-first century. In the decade that has followed, we have endeavored to meet those commitments, and our graduates have established an impressive record of service throughout the State of North Carolina, the Southeast, and the Nation, in large and small firms, in government, in industry and in education.

Campbell's classes of 1987, 1988 and 1989, represented in this Bulletin, possess exceptional academic credentials, and their training, diligence and commitment will continue the tradition that began ten short years ago. Virtually all of them will have served as summer clerks prior to graduation, and all will have participated in our nationally recognized, award winning Trial Advocacy program. Their required participation in planning and management courses, an intensive writing requirement and exposure to the newest technological advances brought about by the computer revolution will produce lawyers capable of meeting the demands of the legal profession now and in the future.

I invite you to visit our Law School to view our program and conduct an on-campus interview. To schedule an interview time or solicit a resume from any student appearing in this Bulletin, please contact Assistant Dean Margaret Currin, who provides additional information on page 2. As always, we appreciate your continued support and kind suggestions, and remain eager to assist you in any way we can.

Sincerely,

Richard A. Lord
Acting Dean
Dear Friends,

Greetings from the Classes of 1987-1989! As you look through this bulletin, you will see that our students come from all over the United States. Though we are diverse in our backgrounds, we come to Buies Creek with one purpose in mind: to study the law and prepare for its practice.

In addition to the substantive courses taught in traditional legal curricula, our students are required to take courses which combine legal theory with practical application. Included among these are law office management; either business, contract, real property, estate, or law firm planning; income tax, estate and gift tax, and perhaps the most intensive trial and appellate advocacy program in America.

Our students and graduates are equipped with the tools necessary to step in and contribute immediately to your firm. It is with great excitement that we look forward to that challenge.

Donald M. Brown, Jr.
President, SBA
School of Law Placement Office

Law firms, government agencies, corporations, accounting firms, judges, service organizations, public interest and legal assistance groups, educational institutions, and other employers interested in hiring law students and graduates are invited to participate in the recruitment program of Campbell University School of Law.

On-campus interviews should be arranged by contacting the Placement Office as early as possible in advance of your planned visit. Although the majority of employers conducting on-campus interviews visit in the fall, the Placement Office will schedule interviews at any time.

Students and graduates should make knowledgeable choices when registering for interviews. The Placement Office will provide to students and alumni general descriptive material furnished by recruiters along with specific information on the positions to be filled, hiring procedures, and qualifications desired. We will be happy to collect resumes, arrange interview schedules, reserve conference rooms, and make all other necessary accommodations.

Employers not visiting the School of Law are invited to list positions with the Placement Office and to forward job information material which will be distributed to students and alumni.

The School of Law is a member of the National Association for Law Placement and participates in the annual and regional meetings of that association.

This edition of the Placement Bulletin will introduce you to members of the Classes of 1987, 1988, and 1989. We commend these students to you for your consideration.

We sincerely hope that it will be possible for you to visit the School, and we look forward to hearing from you.

Thank you for your interest.
